General Letter Format — Budget Reconciliation & Environment

Dear [Senator/Representative Last Name],

As your constituent from [City, State], I'm writing to urge you to oppose any provisions in the 2025 budget reconciliation package that weaken environmental protections, expand fossil fuel development on public lands, or undercut our nation's climate and conservation goals.

I'm deeply concerned that this process is being used to push through policies that would:

- Open more public lands to oil and gas drilling
- Undermine laws like the Clean Air Act, NEPA (National Environmental Policy Act), and the Endangered Species Act
- Cut funding for clean energy, community resilience, and environmental justice programs

Our environment is not a line item. The budget must reflect our values—and that means protecting public lands, investing in climate solutions, and ensuring clean air and water for all communities.

I urge you to fight for a budget that:

- Prioritizes renewable energy and climate resilience
- Protects public lands and wildlife
- Upholds environmental safeguards and community protections
- Advances equity and environmental justice

Please reject any rollbacks or giveaways to polluting industries. The future of our environment—and the health and safety of generations to come—depend on your leadership.

Thank you for your service and attention to this urgent matter.

Sincerely,

1. ALASKA DRILLING / ARCTIC PROTECTIONS

Dear [Senator/Representative Last Name],

As your constituent from [City, State], I urge you to oppose any provisions in the 2025 budget reconciliation bill that promote fossil fuel extraction in Alaska—especially in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and the Western Arctic.

These public lands are sacred, ecologically rich, and vital in the fight against climate change. Expanding oil and gas leasing here threatens fragile ecosystems, harms Indigenous communities, and undermines our climate goals.

Please ensure the final budget protects these critical landscapes, respects Indigenous sovereignty, and reflects our nation's commitment to a sustainable future.

Sincerely,

3. ENDANGERED SPECIES & BIODIVERSITY

Dear [Senator/Representative Last Name],

I'm writing to express deep concern over any attempts to weaken protections for endangered species or reduce biodiversity funding through the 2025 budget reconciliation process.

Now is not the time to erode the Endangered Species Act or cut investments in habitat restoration. With ecosystems under unprecedented stress, we must strengthen federal protections, not dismantle them.

Please defend funding for wildlife conservation and oppose any budget riders that undermine environmental review or fast-track harmful projects.

Thank you for standing up for biodiversity and ecological responsibility.

Sincerely,

4. ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE & COMMUNITY PROTECTIONS

Dear [Senator/Representative Last Name],

I'm writing to urge you to prioritize environmental justice in the 2025 budget reconciliation process.

Marginalized communities have long faced the harshest burdens from pollution and climate impacts. The budget must expand—not cut—investments in clean air, safe water, and local climate resilience.

Please defend the EPA's (Environmental Protection Agency) environmental justice programs, uphold key protections like NEPA (National Environmental Policy Act), and ensure frontline communities have a voice and resources in federal policy.

Everyone deserves a healthy environment—regardless of income or zip code.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
